Andrew Doyle, Bishop of Texas, was the celebrant of the liturgy. Bishop Doyle was joined by Bishops Suffragan Harrison and Fisher; Bishop Monterroso, Bishop Assistant; and Bishop Philip Duncan, Bishop of the Central Gulf Coast, Retired. Bishop Doyle was assisted at the altar by Russ Oechsel, Archdeacon, and Albert Melis, Deacon. The preacher was Bishop Doyle.

Following the opening Eucharist, a program celebrating the ministry of Bishop Harrison was held at the Council dinner.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2019
BUSINESS SESSION

At 10 o'clock on Friday morning in the Woodlands Waterway Marriott, the 170th Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas was called to order by the Bishop, the Right Reverend C. Andrew Doyle. The Bishop announced that he had placed a copy of the Bible on the rostrum in view of the Delegates opened to the Gospel of Mark, 12: 28-34. The Bishop announced that he had appointed the Reverend Elizabeth Holden as Chaplain to the 170th Council. The Bishop requested Chaplain Holden read the selection from Mark and to lead the Council in prayer. The Council Delegates were then asked to participate at their tables in the Indaba Bible study of the selection from Mark, following which the Hymn "Christ For the World We Sing" was sung.

A review of the computer voting system was undertaken.

The Secretary announced that as of 9.30 a.m. Friday, 397 lay and 207 clergy delegates were registered. In order to establish a quorum, the Secretary asked the non-retired clergy present to stand. One delegate from each congregation was then asked to stand. The Secretary then certified that a quorum was present.

Beginning the report on Credentials the Secretary moved that all licensed clergy who function as heads of congregations and those who are licensed as assisting clergy or on the staff of diocesan institutions, be admitted to Council with seat and voice but without vote. The motion was seconded. On a voice vote, the Bishop declared the motion adopted.

The Secretary announced that there were no congregations in arrears on their assessments to the Church Pension Fund or the Diocesan Assessment. All Parochial Reports had been filed.

The Bishop announced the appointment of the following as college Delegates: University of Texas, Michael Welch, Delegate and Mark White, Alternate; Texas A&M, Gregory Cross, Delegate and Emily Stokes, Alternate; Rice University, Alyson Riley, Delegate; Texas Southern University, Liz Luna, Delegate and Darius Williams, Alternate; University of Houston, Sylvia Garcia, Delegate; Stephen F. Austin, Gabi Harris, Delegate; Baylor University, Jonathan Gay, Delegate and Delaney Smith, Alternate.

The Bishop announced the appointment of the following as members of the Youth Ministry of the Diocese and as such entitled to one voting Delegate from each Convocation: Joy Ani (Southwest Convocation), Andrew Batenhorst (Central Convocation), Caleb Carnes (San Jacinto Convocation), Eva Cornelius (Austin Convocation), Kaylan Johnson (East Harris Convocation), Jimmy Tollett (Northeast Convocation), Wilson Ramirez (West Harris Convocation), Anna Lee Williams (Northwest Convocation), and Gia Viggiano (Galveston Convocation).

The Secretary announced that the Credentials Report was concluded. The Bishop then announced that the 170th Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas was organized for business. The Bishop announced that he had appointed Ms. Lee Woodward as Parliamentarian to the 170th Council and that David Harvin was present as Chancellor of the Diocese.

The Chair of the Committee on Dispatch of Business presented the Special Rules of Procedure (as printed in the Order of Business booklet) and moved their adoption. There being no discussion the motion was adopted by a two-thirds standing vote. The Committee Chair then moved the adoption of the Council's Order of Business (also printed in the Order of Business booklet). The motion was adopted on a voice vote.

The Secretary announced that there was no unfinished business from the 169th Council and certified that the minutes of that Council to be a true and accurate record of the proceedings of the 169th Council. The Bishop attested to the validity of the minutes of the 169th Council.

The Bishop announced that there were no Council Committees with vacancies that needed to be filled.

Canon Joann Saylor reported on Diocesan Missions and Parishes: I have two items of business to report and bring before this Council. First, in 2017 Bishop Doyle established an Episcopal Fellowship in accordance with Title III of the Canons, Section 5.11, San Romero Episcopal Church. Bishop Doyle established two more in 2018 in accordance with the Canon, Good Shepherd Indian Episcopal Church and St. Philip the Evangelist Episcopal Church. In accordance with Section 5.11, upon recommendation of the Bishop and with the approval of Council, these Fellowships are each entitled to one Lay Delegate and may be seated with voice but without vote. Therefore, on behalf of the Bishop Diocesan, I move that the lay delegates of their respective Fellowships be approved and be seated with voice but without vote at this Council.

The motion, not requiring a second, was adopted on a voice vote.

Canon Saylor continued: Additionally, two congregations which were started as parochial missions have been approved by Bishop Doyle to become Missions of the Diocese: St. Isidore's under the leadership of the Rev. Sean Steele was formerly a mission of Trinity, The Woodlands; SoCo Episcopal Church under the leadership of the Rev. Paul Skeith, was formerly a mission of Saint David's, Austin. We are delighted that they have grown into this step. So, on behalf of the Bishop Diocesan and in accordance with Title III, Section 5.5, the Bishop having approved them as Missions, I move that these two congregations be admitted into union with this Council and their lay delegates be seated with voice and vote. We will share more and celebrate their new status tomorrow morning when representatives from these congregations will ring the Great Commission bell.

The motion, not requiring a second, to admit into union with this Council, St. Isidore's Episcopal Church was adopted on a voice vote.

The motion, not requiring a second, to admit into union with this Council, SoCo Episcopal Church.

was adopted on a voice vote.

Canon Saylor's concluded her report: We are growing, but the stresses and strains of contextual change mean not all congregations continue. This has been true since the time of Bishop Alexander Gregg, our first Bishop. Saint Barnabas Episcopal Church has been closed in accordance with conversations between the Bishop Diocesan and staff.

The Bishop responded: Just as we have made congregations by bringing them into union with this Council, we must close parishes too. St. Barnabas Episcopal Church, Houston, has closed its doors and I ask the Council to mark its closing by an action of Council. I move that St. Barnabas cease as a church of this Council and a church of the Diocese of Texas. The motion was seconded and adopted by a voice vote of the 170th Council.

The Bishop announced that Council would now organize for the election of a Bishop Suffragan. Linda Mitchell, Treasurer of the Diocese, reported that funds are available and included in the 2019 budget for the West Region Bishop Suffragan compensation of $101,269 and a $31,677 housing allowance. Also included in the Office of the Bishop budget are funds for pension and social security of $54,355 as well as business and travel of $47,000. Reflected in the 2019 budget for Canonical Expenses is $125,000 for the Bishop Suffragan transition such as background checks and search and election costs. This is an increase of $85,000 from the previous year.

Bishop Doyle: We established a search committee and transition committee for the search, election, and transition of the Bishop Suffragan for the Western Region. I provided for the Diocese a job description and appointed the Rev. Susan Kennard as chair of the committee along with Mrs. Pam Nolting. They then appointed subcommittees and began their work. They proceeded to conduct a year long search - candidates were announced, a time for prayer and petition for applicants was conducted, and no other candidates petitioned to apply. We conducted a walkabout at Camp Allen. All background checks were completed and given to the Office of the Presiding Bishop. We are now at the moment of preparation for election and a transition committee is prepared to assist in the move of the Bishop Suffragan-elect to Austin from which she will minister to the whole western region. I now call for the first of several prayers for Divine Guidance. I ask that the Chaplain to this Council now offer prayers for the election of a Bishop.

The Chaplain offered prayers for the election of a Bishop.

At the request of the Bishop, the President of the Standing Committee, Dave Bollinger, placed into nomination the candidates: Rt. Rev. Sir, clergy and delegates to the 170th Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. After diligent work and prayerful discernment with male and female applicants from inside and outside the Diocese, it is my joy to present these three outstanding candidates for Bishop Suffragan to this 170th Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. I hereby nominate the following candidates for election as Bishop Suffragan to serve in the West Region of the Diocese of Texas: The Rev. Hannah Atkins Romero, The Rev. Canon Glenice Robinson Como and The Rev. Canon Kathryn Ryan.

Bishop Doyle responds: Now that the Standing Committee has discharged their role by certifying the candidacy of each nominee and placing their names in nomination (which does not require a second) by special rules of order we will now invite one speaker, chosen by each nominee, to come forward and offer a statement of support for the nominee.

To speak for the Rev. Hannah Atkins Romero, the Bishop called upon the Rev. Alex Montes-Vela of St. Mary Magdalene, Manor, Texas.

Bishop Doyle then called upon the Rev. Canon Simon Bautista, Christ Church Cathedral, to speak for the Rev. Glenice Robinson Como.

Bishop Doyle then called upon the Rev. Albert Pearson, Grace Church, Georgetown, to speak for the Rev. Canon Kathryn Ryan.

Following the seconding speeches, Bishop Doyle addressed the Council: Members of Council: you have received the job descriptions stated in the 169th Council and posted on the search website; you have heard testimony to the financial capacity of the diocese to fund the position and ministry of the Bishop Suffragan for the west region; you have received the nominations from the Standing Committee after a yearlong search; and you have heard the seconding speeches. The candidate's nominations now belong to the Council.

Jason Ingalls rehearsed the voting procedure, after which the Chaplain led the Council in prayer, followed by hymn, "Come Gracious Spirit, Heavenly Dove" and the first ballot.

The voting was closed. A short recess was followed by a return to receive the results of the ballot.

Jason Ingalls announced the results of the first ballot, repeated by Bishop Doyle

	LAY ORDER	CLERGY ORDER
The Rev. Hannah Atkins	97	70
The Rev. Canon Glenice Como	61	28
The Rev. Canon Kai Ryan	283	137

Bishop Doyle announced that Canon Ryan had been elected in both orders.

The Bishop reminded the Council that it was the tradition of the Diocese of Texas to call for a unanimous vote after an episcopal election as a show of support for the mission and ministry of the Bishop-elect. I ask the senior Bishop Suffragan, Jeff Fisher, to make this motion.

Rt. Rev. Sir: Members of the 170th Council, I rise to invite this Council to stand and show our unanimous support for the new Bishop Suffragan-elect, and to give a round of applause for her and those who have put their names forward for this ministry.

Canon Ryan's family was introduced after which she spoke briefly to the Council.

The Chaplain led the Council in giving thanks. The Council joined in the hymn "Now Thank We All Our God."

The Bishop announced a recess for lunch, noting that "Noon -Day" Prayers would be held at a later time in the afternoon. When the Council reconvened, the Bishop asked for a round of applause on behalf of the other candidates in the election.

The Bishop delivered his Council Address (Appendix A, following these minutes)

The Bishop announced that the registration for the 170th Council now totaled 445 lay delegates and 238 clergy delegates. He reminded Delegates that it was necessary for each of them (lay and clergy) to sign the Testimonial of Election and that blanks for signatures would be on each table. Canon Ryan's consecration would be in Austin on June 1, Bishop Currey presiding.

The Bishop called for the report of the Committee on Constitution and Canons, Maria Boyce, Chair. (The complete report of the Committee on Constitution and Canons may be found in volume I of the Journal of the 170th Council. A copy of the reports "as adopted" may be found as Appendix B, following these Minutes).

The Committee moved, for a second reading, an amendment to Article 1.1 ("Authority") of the Constitution. On a 2/3 voice vote, the amendment was ruled as adopted. The Committee then moved, for a second reading, amendments to Article 2 ("The Council"). On a 2/3 voice vote the amendments were ruled as adopted. The Committee then moved, for a second reading, an amendment to Article 4 ("Officers and Elections"). On a 2/3 voice vote, the amendment was ruled as adopted.

The Committee introduced and moved for a first reading and printing in the Journal an amendment to Article II.2. Discussion ensued. On a voice vote the amendment was adopted.

The Committee moved the adoption of an amendment to Article III. 4.1(a). The motion was made and seconded to remove the phrase "...in hand-written form" Considerable discussion followed. The Chancellor ruled that the amendment was Out-of-Order. Question was called but was not adopted.

Following the Chancellor's decision that the amendment was Out of Order, the Bishop so ruled. The ruling was appealed and seconded. There was no debate. On a voice vote the opinion of the Bishop was sustained. Discussion of the original motion continued. After still more discussion the motion was made and seconded to refer the original proposal back to the Executive Board for further study. Discussion of the recall followed. The Question being called, seconded, and adopted, discussion finally ceased. On a voice vote, the motion to refer the motion to refer to the Executive Board was then adopted.

The Committee moved the adoption of amendments to Canon III.11. The motion was adopted on a voice vote.

The report of the Committee on Constitution and Canons to the 170th Council was concluded.

The Reverend Jimmy Grace, Chair of the Committee on Resolutions began his report with the report that there were no “regular” resolutions this year. (The complete list of “Courtesy Resolutions” may be found at Appendix B of this Journal). The list of Courtesy resolutions was adopted on a voice vote.

Canon Saylor continued the Report of the Committee on Missions and Parishes (The continuing report may be found at Appendix C of this Journal).

The Bishop spoke on the Budget formulation process and the work of the Executive Board. The ad-hoc group that studied the process made several recommendations – such as electing delegates in the Fall before the Council year. Also, the creation of a standing Committee of Council for the Budget. The discussion by the Executive Board will continue towards the Council of 2020.

The Bishop declared a short break after which Linda Mitchell, Treasurer of the Diocese, presented the unaudited Treasurer’s Report reporting a “strong” 2018. A better year than expected! (A complete copy of the Treasurer’s Report may be found at Appendix D)

Jason Ingalls reported on the balloting procedures. Before the first ballot, the Chaplain led the Council in prayer.

Bishop Fisher reported to the Council on his 2018 ministry, particularly with the General Convention and that of the Diocesan World Mission Board. Bishop Monterroso addressed Council on his ministry in the Diocese during 2018, particularly with his pastoral visits made during the year.

The Reverend Jason Ingalls made the following special announcement: We are the Episcopal Diocese of Texas and that says two things about us. We are a people of faithful stewardship and we are a missionary people, commissioned to become and share the good news of Christ.

The Canons of The Episcopal Church name the tithe as the biblical standard of Christian financial stewardship. We as a Diocese faithfully obeyed God's direction when we allocated a tenth of the sale of St. Luke's to establish the Great Commission Foundation, a Foundation whose goal is to promote, encourage, and fund this missionary people in God's work in our fifty-seven counties.

The Diocese of Texas is comprised of parishes who were founded by this missionary people. Holy Spirit, Waco, is no exception.

In 1961, five families from St. Paul's, Waco, and five families from St. Alben's, Waco, gathered with a handful of others to inaugurate the Northwest Waco Mission. They met in Waco's first covered mall. Within a year they bought the neighboring land. They laid a cornerstone in 1964. They became then the record-holder for quickest transition from mission to parish in diocesan history.

But Holy Spirit, Waco, is just one example of hundreds. We, the Diocese of Texas, are a missionary diocese and a missionary people. We equip and send each other out to become and share the good news of Jesus Christ.

When Holy Spirit was informed late in 2017 that long-time parishioners Dr. Hendley and Dr. Hemprova McDonald had left a portion of their estate to Holy Spirit, our Vestry decided that we would faithfully steward the gift by tithing it to the Great Commission Foundation in support of church-planting in general and one church plant in particular.

Therefore, Bishop, on behalf of the Vestry of Holy Spirit Episcopal Church, Waco, Texas, in honor of Easton and Fern Allen and the founding generation of our parish, we lay here a new cornerstone. For the purposes of supporting the missionary work of the Reverend John Soard, who was raised up and called out of Holy Spirit and Holy Family Episcopal Church, Lake Houston, Father Soard's church plant, I do hereby present to you this check in the amount of $236,803.76.

To God be the glory. Amen

As Council demonstrated its enthusiasm and gratitude, Bishop Doyle received the check in the name of the Great Commission Fund and handed it on to David Fisher, Diocesan Director of Foundations.

The Bishop asked Canon Saylor to introduce the two new congregations for the ringing of the Great Commission Bell. Two congregations which were started as parochial missions have been approved by Bishop Doyle to become missions of the Diocese. They have achieved a level of health that gives us confidence in their ability to function as separate congregations and optimism about their future. Their health is a direct result of the work of the parishes that planted them. We thank Trinity, the Woodlands, their Rector, Gerry Sevick, and lay leaders for the oversight and support that have helped St. Isidore's, under the leadership of the Rev. Sean Steele, reach this milestone. We also thank St. David's, Austin, and their Rector, Chuck Treadwell and lay leadership for starting SoCo, under the leadership of the Rev. Paul Skeith, and supporting them to this step.

As many of you are aware, the Great Commission Bell is the symbol of the church planting and church growth in the Diocese. While the bell resides in the Houston office lobby, it makes appearances at Council well as at groundbreaking and dedication services of projects funded by the Great Commission Foundation. It is rung at Council to celebrate new Fellowships, Missions, and Parishes, proclaiming spread of the Gospel in the Diocese of Texas.

At this time and on behalf of the Bishop Diocesan, the Great Commission Foundation, and this Council, I will invite representatives of our two newest Episcopal missions, St. Isidore's Episcopal Church and SoCo Episcopal Church, to come forward and ring the bell.

First, I invite the Rev. Sean Steele, Vicar of St. Isidore's Episcopal Church, The Woodlands, and Lay Delegate Mike Thomson to ring the bell, accompanied by members of the congregation.

Next, I invite the Rev. Paul Skeith, Vicar of SoCo Episcopal Church, Austin, and Lay Delegate Gwynn Greener to ring the bell, accompanied by members of their congregation

Results of the first ballot were announced: For the Standing Committee, Clergy, there would be a runoff between Ed Gomez and Jason Ingalls. For the Standing Committee, Lay, there would be a runoff between Gwendolyn Chance and Ellen Eby. For the Executive Board, Clergy, Angela Cortinas was elected. There would be runoff between Steven Balke and Justin Yawn. For the Executive Board, Lay, Carvel Glenn, Erin McClure, and Sandra Montes were elected. For the Church Corporation Trustee, Mark Browning was elected. For the Sewanee Trustee, Ben Okoh was elected.

The Chaplain led Council in prayer prior to the second ballot.

The Bishop declared a short break, following which he made a number of presentations to those who had helped make the General Convention such a success.

The Treasurer announced that $5,100.72 had been contributed in Council offerings. The motion was made, seconded, and adopted on a voice vote that the offering be designated to the Bishop Dena Harrison Fellows Fund at the Seminary of the Southwest.

The Supervisors and Tellers reported that Stephen Balke had been elected to the Executive Board, Clergy. Jason Ingalls had been elected to the Standing Committee, Clergy. Gwendolyn Chance had been elected to the Standing Committee, Lay.

George Dehan spoke about Camp Allen. The $12M Capital Campaign is now over $11 million.

The Bishop announced that the list of his nominations was available. There being no objection the motion to elect the nominees was adopted. The Bishop also announced that the list of his canonical appointments was also available.

Short meetings of the Standing Committee and Executive Board immediately following adjournment were announced.

Gratitude to the Council Management Committee was expressed. The 171st Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas will be held in Waco on the two days of February 7 and 8 (Friday and Saturday).

The Bishop expressed his appreciation to the many who contributed to the success of the Council. He offered a special prayer for the people of Venezuela.

There being no further business, the meeting of the 170th Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas was adjourned at 11.00 a.m. The meeting was closed with a singing of the Doxology and a Blessing by the Bishop.

Respectfully submitted,

John A. Logan, Jr., Secretary

Friday, February 22, 2019

For over 10 years, you and I have labored across our 57 counties and 46,000 square miles that are the Diocese of Texas. And we are every kind of person that you could imagine. We are city folk, country folk. We are liberal and conservative. We are LGBTQ plus. High church. Low church. Black, white, brown and we are every color and every language that you can imagine. We are all, we are all laboring as followers of Jesus Christ. We are one church in this diocese, and I will tell you that, to hear that sound is an amazing thing in and of itself. It is miraculous.

But we should be honest. The last few years have tested us. Again, there's been a political storm, a church storm, and wind and water storms. But I'm so proud that we have remained united. United and together within an Episcopal Church, an Anglican communion, and we have made a witness of unity as we have joined together. Hand in hand, shoulder to shoulder, we work together in this place. We have a deep desire that all people join us.

We invite people to follow the way of Jesus. And we're willing to work together, to make this world a better place for all because we Episcopalians are here in this place in our context and in our little towns, small missions, and our large churches and to effect change for good, here and all around the world. We have set out our five-year goals, our 2020 goals, to grow through our congregations, plant churches, to grow younger, to diversify, to care for people, to serve our people already in the church but to serve our people in our neighborhoods and our towns and our cities. We have together accomplished a whole lot, and we are challenged by a whole lot.

And it seems as though as soon as we figure it out, suddenly, we discover more questions. And that just leads us to a deeper mission. There is a spirit of curiosity and tenacity in this place, a determination, a patience. There is a willingness to risk and to risk failure. A love, a desire for adventure, a hope for each other and a love for one another, which is definitely key. After listening in 2008, together, we decided that we have to-- one of many things that was decided-- but one of them was that we have to reignite college campus mission. We have to be organized. We did not have enough funds to expand and ask for leaders. We were not willing to change the assessment formula so that congregations are going to have to send more money for this work. So, we turned to the Great Commission Foundation and ask them to help us raise the dollars needed. When we began in 2009, we had six campus missions. To your questions about funding and expanding college missions, I've heard over the last year. I want to say, today, we are funding 21 college campus missions with over 400 young adults participating.

We are growing and we are adding to those numbers. We are spending about $800,000 on evangelism and growth and staffing and programming to make that happen. We take this call to reach that next generation seriously. And I'm proud of the youth for supporting and calling us to do that work. I believe that we need to continue to grow and to strengthen because I believe it's one of the places where we are on the edge and can learn from the future leaders of our church. And where they can teach us about the context in which we are living.

As we press on, we are finding a desperate need for a Christian formation. If we stretch, we can become a church in this new mission age to where the baptized are supported in their ministry by clergy instead of a clergy-led lay supported church. And we recognize the work that we have to do together to form Christians and form Episcopalians and form apostles to go out and lead in the world. And our team, your diocesan team is meeting you in your congregations, serving with you, and gathering you to cast a vision to get them out into the field. We worked this past year to support 60 Christian Formation leaders to prepare and coach 14 children and youth ministers. Our Happening ministry is thriving. We even had three youth baptisms in Happening this past year.

We have over 500 people participating in this youth gathering. Not to mention the work of our youth ministers across the diocese week to week. Only you, yes, only you, in your local congregations can form young people. So, we're investing heavily in supporting our ministry to the youth who are already members of our congregations and who will bring their friends.

We have engaged in missional community growth and planting. As we reached out into our neighborhoods because we sought to be a welcoming church, we began to engage each other and to listen and build our cross-cultural leadership skills. And because, you're right, we need to be able to walk out and talk to the people in our neighborhoods. And so, we sought to invest in cross-cultural leadership development. Over 400 of your church leaders in 2018 participated in deeper dives into diversity as a leadership group. We coached and helped spawn and then gather an additional 300 individuals from the local context to participate with us in this work. We began to immerse other ministries in these skills, this relationship building, realizing it wasn't just the congregations, but we did it in the work of Happening leadership, with the IONA school, with our own curate program. Those are just some of the places in which we are investing deeply, stretching ourselves outwards towards the world around us.

We as a diocese of leaders are changing too. We had over 300 lay leaders come together at our Hispanic Lay Leadership Conference, which was all in Spanish. Our goals to grow in our cross-cultural skills and grow in diversity in order to reflect our context is emerging as a major strength of this diocese.

That does not mean that we don't have more to do. We discovered that we need to do some reconciliation, especially around race. In 2018, we had six screenings and dialogues, showing Traces of the Trade. An amazing film, and an eye-opening film that awakens the spirit to the long legacy of slavery in our country. We are launching this year with the help of our congregational engagement team at Episcopal Health Foundation, a program titled "In Common." It is to work with 11 congregations interested in deepening this kind of work. They will gather in Houston, Austin, and Tyler. Still others in our diocese are engaged in conversation around race, using our Province VII training. We are curious about the work that you all are doing. This is important and difficult and powerful and transformative work. We have to do this. We as a diocese have to do this work because of our past as a diocese. And we have to do this work for the sake of our children in this diocese, and for the sake of this country. We have to. It is a key piece to our church's future.

One congregation out of the many stands tall in its efforts to do this work. Thanks to John Himes and the leadership at Trinity in Marshall, Texas. They are one of the early adopters and they are now a leading congregation. They are leading the city in racial reconciliation.

Our service ministries are reaching out, are beginning to see change as we re-engage our communities to discover ways that we can truly help. It's all too easy to step in to community and think that we see what it is needed, but that's not community engagement. We want to work with our neighbors and other community-based organizations to improve the wellness of our neighborhoods and the people who live there. With EHF, the Episcopal Health Foundation's congregational engagement team, we are working together, we engaged 27 congregations interested in civic engagement and community organizing. 15 congregations are doing Holy Currencies work which is a ministry incubation program to learn about resources that are already in the midst of the community. 75 congregations have worked on mental health and wellness. That's over 828 people of which half of them were from our neighborhood's half from our congregations, joining together to serve and figure out how to do ministry today. 6 congregations have attended an engagement training, that helps us as congregations and leaders to move past the 1930s idea of service and outreach. If you have a heart for serving your community and don't know how to start, or find that your outreach ministries are dated or people's pet projects, or are fading away as the culture changes, I encourage you to make step one reaching out and visiting with folks at the Episcopal Health Foundation and the congregational engagement team to invite a conversation about how to move forward.

I do think sometimes that we have the idea that we will just get some money to do some things. The future of funding the mission is a collaborative model in our diocese. That always includes sustainability. Sustainability mind you cannot be "someone else is going to pay for this idea forever." I think we do the same thing to the diocese, whoever the "diocese" is, that we do to our rectors. We walk into a rector's office and say, "Here's a great idea. You find the money for it, and then you do it or find someone else to do it." The rector's all like, "Wait, what? This is your idea. I thought you were going to do it." And then the person replies, "Oh, I don't have time to do this." There are such things as bad ideas. Bad ideas are your good ideas that you have someone else pay for and do. Good ideas are ideas where we're all in this together.

Today, actually, I see people taking amazing ministry steps in so many ways. Many of you in this room, many of our church members, have gotten the mission bug to do service and evangelism. In 2012, we had a couple of missional communities. I'm pretty sure y'all thought I was crazy, but I offered the suggestion that we go out and start these things. But today, we have 88 missional communities gathering outside of church. 45 congregations are developing new ones. 780 new people are touched by this mission initiative. 2 of them, we just made into mission churches of this council. Missions of the diocese: in 2018, we supported existing congregations in planning additional communities with over $390,000. You all are doing amazing, creative work by walking out your doors and building new communities.

Congregational growth. In 2018, we planted three more congregations. We are now together supporting 12 church plants, 10 since 2012, serving over 730 new Episcopalians. We are supporting this program for about $5 million a year. We also have three second-site congregations that expanded existing ministries in Georgetown, Austin, and Tyler. And in 2019, we will plant three more congregations. We're beginning to think about who will go. Pray for those representing Jesus' love and tending God's sheep in these new areas. What's interesting is that another thing has happened. We're also in conversations with three non-Episcopal churches who serve over 400 people. They want to become Episcopalians.

It's a different game. It is one thing to find amidst ourselves that we're healthy and well, but if fish start jumping in your boat, it's a sign of some good work, I'm telling you.

Let us think for a moment about how we are working together with existing congregations. Not every congregation has the financial resources to support its mission, though it has substantial mission opportunity. These are the congregations like Lord of The Streets (a particular and unique homeless community in Midtown). Or perhaps a congregation serving in economically depressed areas of cities. We support these efforts with a million dollars a year in grant funding and these congregations serve over 2,000 people on any given week. Without us they wouldn't have congregations to go to. We also support existing congregations in other ways. Certainly, we are out on the road. Our Mission Amp team, together, puts over 70,000 miles on their cars getting out in the field supporting you all, visiting and coaching. We also bring dollars to that work, to existing congregations, about $200,000 a year of congregational aid and administrative support, $500,000 in emergency need, that's not including our hurricane work. $50,000 in redevelopment grants, $80,000 in program, small conferences and support for existing congregations. $100,000 in moving expenses for clergy, and $70,000 for congregational support. That's over a million dollars that go right back into existing congregations.

In 2018, we helped a number of congregations with growth initiatives. Many of these projects had been put off for over 20 or more years. We're helping existing congregations improve their mission potential and we did that with an additional $7.5 million. And those dollars follow growth, exponential growth in our congregations and potential evangelism and they follow service. The dollars don't come first. We also use our funding streams to help in times of crisis and we do this every year with our funding, recently with Harvey in particular. We had to support congregations for a short time during their recovery. We helped with clergy pensions. We also helped with short fall in dollars and we helped to fund construction too. In 2018, we made sure 31 congregations did not go underwater with $3.4 million in grants. Some of those are massive rebuilds and some of them have not even started yet.

We're also supporting our clergy. While we underwrite for the diocese the majority of the cost of health care $5 million, we spend an additional $400,000 for clergy support and salaries for new priests. We spent $150,000 training bi-vocational clergy at our IONA program, $150,000 to sabbatical grants to help clergy stay healthy, and another $150,000 for families and programming. We're supporting clergy and their families through wellness and care, providing and underwriting the clergy spouse retreat and a clergy family retreat, plus programming for clergy to help them along with their leadership to become healthy and thrive in their ministry.

A few have even asked, "How much are we supporting our other outreach ministries like El Buen Samaritano and St. Vincent's House, Camp Allen. We've supported those ministries with over $6 million in grants, of which about $1.3 million went directly to ministries of the poor and those in need. And some of that goes to parishes that are doing work with homeless ministries and to the working poor like ECHOS. We gave another $380,000 to community-based ministries outside the Episcopal Church, but still connected to our churches. And then, thanks to the work of the board of Episcopal Health Foundation and their staff, we helped our communities to strive toward wellness with another $23 million in funding to community-based organizations all over our diocese. Elena Marks will talk a little bit more about that work later in our council.

In our goal to be part of the wider church, I serve as the president of The Compass Rose Society and there are many members of the society in our diocese. We support global mission and we hosted General Convention. We're going to have some awards tomorrow for that. We gave grants to the Episcopal Church and Anglican Communion for over $3.3 million. Those dollars went to everything from Jerusalem support and the church there, to North Dakota and Costa Rica. And in India, we helped with a gift to train Dalit women to be nurses. We're helping bring cancer treatments to the Gaza strip and forming leaders all over the world.

Let me shift for a bit here for a moment... I've gotten a lot of emails and phone calls from people wanting me to say something about the recent news articles regarding sexual abuse in the Roman Catholic Church and the Southern Baptist Convention for they have been in all the papers. My first response is that we need to pray for the victims and those who've been hurt by the church. We need to pray for healing, for clarity and vision, for our brothers and sisters and we should pray for ourselves and this diocese. For our integrity and vision the importance of taking care of everyone. And in 2018 we trained over 6,000 leaders of this church. Ministers in this church, clergy and the baptized, have got to safeguard our adults and children. And we spent over $350,000 in programs to support this ministry. Countless hours of on the road and in our congregations and schools.

Thank you. I know that it's hard to go through those trainings, but this is how we change our church. Every report is dealt with in our diocese. And our work makes the difference. Your work and your trainings. The church of God in Christ Jesus has to be a safe place for children and for families. And I'm committed and I'm grateful to your commitment in Christ. Now if you put all that together, which would save about 15, 20 minutes. Here's the thing. In 2018 we gave away to the diocese more than $26 million in health ministries to assist the poor and underserved. We supported new church plants to the tune of about $5 million dollars. And we supported a variety of programs and ministries focused on building healthy congregations for the future of mission service with over $20 million in grants. Of which about 1.3 was for hurricane relief. That's an amazing return on your investment. Amazing. In addition to the diocesan council, made up of all of you, some 700 people and an executive board of 15 members, a Standing Committee of 6 members plus about 54 volunteer board members that serve on our five foundations and another 118 who serve on institutional boards for this diocese and another 70 to serve on missions and committees of the diocese. It takes all of us working in sync to make this happen. This hasn't been a small a task at all. And I'm grateful for your leadership. Together we've been able to keep the cost of our united mission down. Our work and your work and my work is so that we can truly take advantage of things and keep as many dollars in your congregations as possible. In fact, that's almost double the amount in 60 congregations that was given to the mutual ministry of the Diocesan budget.

But a test of your budgets reveals a startling reality. Without this funding stream created by our financial strategic plan, especially the insurance, the stark reality is that over 52 congregations would have closed in the last seven years without us, because they could not afford to continue to do their ministry work.

You and I started this work together. And I am concerned because even with outlets, the numbers of those on the edge are growing. And I see you suffering. It is hard. Our work of sharing these dollars and giving to the mission and our congregations is completely unheard of in the church today, in any church today, any denomination. And quite frankly it's amazing. But it's not good when one of the largest underwriters of your congregations is the diocesan foundations. Our work is to, based on the actions of this council, our five-year plans and 360 reviews, is to carefully plan together for our future.

Strategic financial alignment will be made a priority, funding our mission for leadership and service. So, as we think about that, I want to offer two new initiatives right off the bat to help a little bit more. The first initiative I have is because I have been in a lot of our small congregations over the last couple of months, that's just the way it's been. And I've had the same scene. And I think one of the things we have to do is go smaller as we go bigger. We're going to set aside some fund in 2019 and going forward, we are going to set aside funds to help congregations with small maintenance needs, small attractional evangelism grants, from branding to advertising, to small construction and beautification grants. We want to help you all ensure that maintenance doesn't overwhelm you and cause a greater issue. But at the same time, we need to be about the work of evangelism. We need to bring people in, and we want them to come to beautiful churches that are safe to be in. Churches that have nice bathrooms! I mean come on, who hasn't passed all those gas stations to get to a Buc-ees? Right? I think we need undertake this initiative to keep our doors open, and to have our facilities for worship and then for our communities to have to use. And let me say, as hard as all of that is, I'm really proud of these congregations. In 1995 they were saying that small congregations would be gone, and all we would have are the large congregations. I'm here to tell you that in the diocese of Texas, we got some scrappy small congregations! They are not going away.

But thank God I have somebody to pat on the back. That's me and that's us. The second initiative is to place a group of area missions, full-time clergy who are unattached with the goal to support local mission. I've been thinking we have a number of growth areas in the diocese where we already have footprints. Smaller congregations. You can imagine that in certain areas, right. So, if you go to Beaumont, and you look towards Lumberton there's a growth area there. If you go northeast, Ryan Mills has been undertaking an area mission work there, to deal with small congregations in southern growth. We have a whole swath of growth that moves from Round Rock and Taylor east, right. And now what we want to do is really support the small congregations in these areas as that growth has happened, so we don't get behind. We don't want our congregations to get behind so they can thrive and be lively. So, when I invite the full-time clergy to go into these places, to be on the ground in these areas, you will develop based on where we have small congregations. We expect to nurture what is there. We want small congregations not only to survive but to thrive as they set into their future. We've learned a lot from East Texas and we're grateful for Ryan having served there so faithfully and I think we're ready to go to the next step. This too will take a bit to figure out, and plan for. Hiring and clarifying roles is hard work and long work, and work that has to happen between congregations and mutual initiatives from our Mission Amp team. But I think we should do it and we're already working as a team to figure out the amount of annual funding for these initiatives' growth. And I look forward to reporting back to you on that in 2020.

Last year I spoke to you about vocations. This is still a major issue though we just approved a large number of postulants. Last year, I became concerned, so I invited 25 people from every part of the diocese to come together and work on gathering the kinds of information we need, how to we form leaders and apostles to go out? How do our structures work regarding the discernment of Holy Orders? What process is getting in the way and how can we speed up when we want to slow it down? How are we looking at programs globally and across the Episcopal church to bring in the best practices so we can learn? Seeking and understanding kinds of leadership that are needed, paid and unpaid models, what's working now and what can work better. Part of this is you want to be intentional with a first-lines approach. Intentional and contextual in the data development, intentional concern among creating intentional information and education for the baptized and the clergy. And we have to look at funding approaches. What is the real cost of formation? The real costs of supporting it as a training, scholarships, insurance? So, we're studying a matrix of transitions and what kinds of clergy that we actually need in our diocese. We hope to identify a vast and wide effective care and support of the clergy at each point of transition in the vocational process that we've done. And as we look at that, it's clear that we need to raise a fund, that would help with the vocations of the baptized and the clergy. With the continuing rise of healthcare costs coupled with our desire to create a community of healthy clergy and lay employees, we will have to do something more than what we are presently doing regarding insurance. Both the costs of leadership development and healthcare for our leadership have outpaced our capacity which just seemed so over the top just a few years ago. And so, I want you to know that I am presently working with a very small group of key leaders on bringing solutions forward for these two ideas. And I hope to have an announcement in 2020 as we take on and assess together on how we might deal with these two new funds and sustain them in perpetuity. What is amazing to me though, as I think about all of this, really it isn't the work that your diocesan staff is doing, though that is quite normal. Instead, it's the work that you are doing. You are actually getting out there changing the church, changing your churches, changing the world, and sharing the gospel. You are faithful. You work really hard. You strive and you push. The story is more complicated, but I'm committing to you the next 13 years to figure that out and do it together.

What is ahead for us? Practically there are a few things. We need to prepare for our 175th anniversary. We need to do our next five-year evaluation in 2020 to review and adjust our spending, increasing synchronicity between organizations and funding strategies. We need to imagine the world as it stretches out in front of us. We are in the midst of hiring our new communications director and rethinking our next evolution in a particularly central and critical area. But as we are ending our 10 years together and ending the last five near 2020, many things are clear. We, the diocesan staff, your bishops are responsible for helping you manage the stresses and strains of ministry. There's nothing that brings us more joy than that. We do this by supporting you with grants, by underwriting your ministry, and by being with you in the field by coaching, by learning, by listening, by walking beside you because you're courageous. Your work as clergy and lay leaders at the end of the day and local congregation is one that takes the responsibility, the price of mission in your own location so seriously. You care deeply for the pastoral care of your people. And I love coming to congregations and hearing how you're doing, sharing with you the news of your families. We take seriously providing for worship and allowing us to convene in the assembly the raising up of people for mission ministry, inside and outside the church. You are responsible for local mission and for the care of communities, and you do that work. You are responsible for evangelism, for serving your people, raising up youth - whether it's 1 child in your congregation or 300 - you take that seriously. You minister to families while attempting to financially make things easier. You as congregants are responsible for the ministry on the ground and raising stewardship dollars for your clergy, upkeep of your buildings, and financial support of your mission and you take seriously the responsibility to share the gospel and plant new community seeds.

We live in a society, I think, that wants someone else to come and fix our problems. But that's not Christianity. In Christianity and the polity of our Episcopal church, we work together. Each part has its own work just as this council does. And we your diocesan staff work to support you, so that you as followers of Jesus may, in turn, become the apostles that Jesus desires of you, sending you out into the world. Being sent like Jesus in the power of the Holy Spirit but knowing that you are not alone. We should be mindful that the world in present context is throwing a lot at us. It is easy to be anxious. But has it ever really been different? Has it ever really been different for Christians and for their mission? From the prophets of old to the disciples and the first followers of Jesus, did they not have trials and tribulations that brought them to depend deeper and greater upon the Lord their God? Is that not what they learned from that time? We have been a community united in the cause of Christ and this age is no different. This moment in our context what is before us is no different because God has not abandoned us.

We've not lost our faith. We have Jesus Christ with us, and God's spirit lighting our way like a pillar in the wilderness and we are nothing less than invited to be a part of God's story. How miraculous is that? That God would choose us to take up the banner of this time and to proclaim the Gospel?

And we are unique breed of Christians-- we are Texas Episcopalians and we will rise to the challenge. We will rise to the challenge just as those four laity and three clergy and Bishop George Washington Freeman did when they set out on their own, with their own dollars in their pocket, and they walked through the mud and muck of a winter January day 170 years ago to hold the first council in the diocese of Texas. We will do this together.

In closing I just want to say, last night I was really struck when Bishop Harrison spoke and said that she loved you and that she felt your love for her. What an amazing thing it is to be a diocese where people love one another, and they love their bishops, and the bishops love their people. I love you. I love being your bishop. I love working with you. I love our parishes. I love our congregations. I love the good of our people, good, salt of the earth people. The other bishops, I love the staff. The leadership here in this place, all of you continue to make me want to be the very best bishop I can be for you and for the wider church. Next to my family, to JoAnne and the two girls, and maybe my vinyl collection ... and Joanne would be upset if I didn't say cats, nothing makes me happier than getting to serve Jesus Christ with you. And you need to know that. Thanks.

APPENDIX C – DIOCESAN PARISHES AND MISSIONS - JOANN SAYLORS Canon Mission Amplification Friday, February 22, 2019

Thank you, Rt. Reverend Sir.

Right Reverend Sir, Clergy and Delegates, I would like to continue the report of the Committee on Missions and Parishes.

The work of the Diocese of Texas Mission Amplification team, and the whole diocesan staff, is directly or indirectly helping congregations, whether they are existing churches or new communities of faith. We believe that the mission and ministry in the diocese best happen through our congregations; we exist to form, equip, and empower you, the churches, to do transformative work in your communities. And as a staff, we keep asking ourselves – and you – how we can do that most effectively. In 2018 we began some new initiatives in our work with existing congregations. I will give you an update on two significant ones, now that we have had time to reflect on what we've learned. I will finish with updates on faith communities.

I'll begin by talking about our approach to engaging congregations. Last year we committed to an intentional conversation with the head of congregation for each one of our parishes and missions. We had specific subjects to ask about, things that we have learned healthy congregations do well: leadership, mission, evangelism, and best practices for operations. Our hope is always to identify where we can connect congregations to resources, so we explored the areas of congregational life that might benefit from new ideas, best practices, fresh eyes, peer support, consultation or coaching, or grant funding. We got to know you better. As well as developing or deepening a relationship with the rector, vicar, or senior warden, we learned a great deal about what you are doing that we otherwise might not have heard much about in a diocese this large. In the process we identified the areas that might be a fruitful focus for the Bishops' conversations with leaders and congregations, things you wanted to celebrate in addition to what kind of help you might need. And then we tried to process the information we gathered. Not only to offer help to individual churches, but also to synthesize, looking across congregations for where we could deploy, identify, or develop resources with the greatest impact. We are still analyzing what we've learned, but we have deployed members of the Mission Amp team to talk about formation and missional communities, connected clergy to coaches, made referrals for Invite-Welcome-Connect consulting, and invited laypeople from healthy congregations to become diocesan coaches, to name just a few results.

This was joyful work for everyone on the staff who got to be part of those conversations, more than we ever anticipated. By intentionally coming in as learners, we could explore possibilities with you, not just tell you what to do. We recognize that you know more about your context for ministry than we can, so the best practices we sometimes suggested were yours to adapt if you chose. Our hope is that you will see us as partners in your work, not "the diocese," somewhere far away.

The work is joyful, but it is also relentless. This is a big diocese and growing all the time. We are not only following up on our conversations from last year, but we have added a new area to explore. The healthiest congregations are flexible and resilient. Churches are organic creatures, which means that they are constantly in a state of change. Individuals, even though we make up the body, are not necessarily prepared or predisposed for change. Our goal is to identify which congregations are the most adaptable and why they are that way, then offer our learnings to those which are less so.

Last year we also piloted a peer learning model for stewardship and missional connection work. We began by building a cohort of churches to work together on stewardship, with the goal of reinforcing a culture of abundance rather than scarcity. We offered resources and some theological teaching to eight churches, and three from around the diocese committed to continuing the work together. We also paired each of those three participant churches with a coach, a lay leader with experience leading stewardship efforts in healthy congregations. Through a series of in-person and Zoom video gatherings, each team was able to share what they were doing, what went well, what they tried that was less successful, and what they were planning next. We know that culture change in organizations is a long-term project – on average it takes six or seven years - and we didn't know exactly what would happen as a result of this work.

We had mixed results, if you were to look only at financial metrics, but we viewed this as the first drops in the pond which will ripple out in future years if the churches continue their work. While you can't easily measure culture change, we heard stories from participants and coaches alike that pointed to transformation happening through the process. We are looking forward to building regional cohorts in this and future years, which will create learning partners and nearby colleagues for possible future collaboration.

In partnership with the Episcopal Health Foundation, we invited six churches from around the Austin area to join together in another learning cohort connected to missional strategic planning. Four of those churches stayed together throughout the year. We focused on developing skills and practices around neighborhood engagement – listening, building relationships, joining with others outside the church in work leading to transforming the world, one neighborhood at a time. The churches in the cohort had not only different starting places for their missional engagement but also different contexts, different resources, different opportunities. We trusted the Holy Spirit to guide them, whether that be into forming missional communities, deeper relationship and engagement in work they were already doing, or a focus on newly identified needs. So one congregation re-established their relationship with their neighborhood and their collective partnership in the well-being of the community; another began a survey of community health needs; all four developed more generative connections with community stakeholders.

As we do with all our work, we will continue to adapt to best serve your needs and objectives. We are always eager to hear ideas from you and talk to you about forming a cohort. Although we identified these two areas of focus for the pilot project, and invited participants in part based on what we were learning about them through our congregational engagement work, we will identify other possibilities as we continue to learn.

We are committed to work that is effective and efficient. Participants in the Texas Episcopal Service Corps have served faithfully in prior years. We have struggled recently, however, to recruit participants. So after much prayer and discernment, we are suspending this program at the end of the 2018-19 year. We are already working to identify what works in ministry with young adults, and how we can do it at both a diocesan and congregational level.

I said before that faith communities are organic bodies, always changing, and that includes both creating new ones and helping others find a peaceful end. I am sorry to report that the Mission of St. Timothy's Episcopal Church, Houston, will hold their final services on March 3, 2019, following more than 30 years of faithful ministry. The church was formed in 1983 as a result of a merger of two churches and the whole Church is grateful for those women and men who loved and served Jesus Christ and one another. As Christians we believe that with death comes new life, and we know that God is already at work in whatever mission and ministry will come in the next season for that part of northeast Houston.

We see this cycle of life and death in our missional communities as well. Some are formed for a season and may come to be and end their work in less than one year. Others continue to grow and evolve. So that while the number of them is therefore always changing, as of today there are approximately 800 people touched by 89 missional communities connected to 50 of our 156 congregations, all over the diocese. We are active on 21 college campuses, five with full-time paid missionaries and the rest with part-time or volunteer leaders. We are in the process of starting or restarting four more campus missions and exploring 14 more campuses for the first time. Four congregations have thriving second sites, and together we, along with the Great Commission Foundation, are supporting 10 church plants begun during this episcopacy. They are all different, with a variety of contexts and growth trajectories, and they join you as pieces of our shared diocesan mission and vision.

Three planted congregations are at mission status:

St. Julian of Norwich in Round Rock was planted in 2008 and has grown under the leadership of Miles Brandon, Vicar. As a result they are now looking for a new and permanent home.

St. Mary Magdalene, Manor, led by their Vicar, Alex Montes-Vela, was also planted in 2008. They continue to model life together as a highly multicultural community.

We join Church of the Cross, Lake Travis, planted in 2013 and led by Vicar Paul Johnson, in their excitement about the purchase of their new property.

Three more of the ten plants are at fellowship status.

San Romero, with Vicar Uriel Lopez, planted in northwest Houston in 2017, shares space with St. Christopher's, Houston.

St. Philip the Evangelist, which formed as an Episcopal congregation in 2017 out of a relationship with the Sudanese Community Church in Houston, shared space with a Presbyterian Church last year at this time. They are now hosted by Ascension Episcopal Church, in west Houston.

And Good Shepherd Episcopal Indian Church, Stafford, formed by members from a Church of South India congregation and approved as a fellowship in 2017, shares space with All Saints, Stafford.

Finally, three new planters were called by Bishop Doyle in 2018, joining the Reverend John Soard, who was called to plant in Northwest Houston in 2017. A community led by the Rev. Brin Bon has already begun gathering in South Austin, as has a community in Northeast Houston, led by the Rev. Carissa Baldwin-McGinnis. The Rev. David Peters began his work on January 1 of this year in the Pflugerville area. All of these leaders have been welcomed and supported by the churches nearest to them, as have all of our plants, as they grow into the communities God has called them to be.

We anticipate calling three more planters in 2019 into areas approved by Bishop Doyle from a proposed list of five.

The life-giving mission and ministry through all the entities of the Diocese of Texas happens because of you. I speak on behalf of the entire Diocesan staff when I say how grateful we are for your faithful service to God and one another, and we continue to seek opportunities to serve you. We work in a healthy diocese, and it is a great privilege to offer our gifts to congregations and individuals working to further the diocesan vision and mission.

[Thank you, Right Reverend Sir. I will conclude this report tomorrow morning following the celebration for our two new diocesan missions.]

APPENDIX D – 2018 FINANCIAL RESULTS – LINDA RILEY MITCHELL Friday, February 22, 2019

THANK YOU Right Reverend, Sir.

Good afternoon, Right Reverend, Sir, Council Delegates, Staff and Visitors

Hello, I am Linda Riley Mitchell and I am pleased to present the unaudited – and I must emphasize unaudited – December 31, 2018 financial results for the Episcopal Diocese of TX. The financial statements are still preliminary as our auditors, Blazek & Vetterling, have not yet begun their review.

Of course, this marks the final year of leadership for The Rt. Rev. Bishop Suffragan, Dena Harrison. You may not know that she was once a mortgage banker. Financial expertise was just one of her many gifts to the diocese. I know it was a gift to me -- and to all of us.

Another change in leadership is that Samuel Dodson is in his final day as Chair of the Finance Committee after many years. Sam is a CPA and has a Masters' in Taxation. He is a member of St. James, Houston. He also led the CFO search committee. In 2016, the Committee unanimously recommended me to Bishop Doyle to become CFO of the Episcopal Diocese of TX. In all Sam's exceptional work that is what I appreciate the most. (APPLAUSE) Sam will continue to Chair the Diocese's Audit Committee.

The incoming Chair of the Finance Committee is Bette Lehmberg. Bette is a CPA, a J.D., a lawyer who retired in December after many years as a Senior Vice President of Northern Trust. She is member of St. Martin's Houston and is currently Vice President of The Great Commission Foundation. She was also a member of the 2016 CFO search committee. Thanks, Bette. Bette climbs mountains in her spare time. Yes.... Really. We are so honored that she is willing to serve the Diocese as Finance Committee Chair. (APPLAUSE)

So, let's talk about last year, the December 31, 2018 actual unaudited financial performance of the Diocese of Texas. What do you know about the diocese's finances? At the nine pre-council meetings we played a little Price is Right! Pre-council attendees answered questions about the EDOT finances. I will not play that here. But...

Just one question. How much was the 2018 budget that was approved last year at Council in Waco? It was $11.1 million, more precisely $11,062,349. It was a breakeven budget. I am pleased to report that in 2018, we came in better than that budget, we spent less than the $11.1 million and generated revenues that exceeded expenses by $251,611. This was $251,611 favorable as we had budgeted breakeven, with revenues equal to expenses.

Thank you for your faithful stewardship in the parishes. As a result, we have strong financial results in 2018. Our strong results are not just those of the Diocesan offices at 1225 Texas or Tyler or Austin, but results that reflect work done by you across 57 counties. These are not Linda Mitchell's statements or even Bishop Doyle's statements-- right, Right Reverend Sir? THIS IS US. No, not THIS IS US on NBC, but This is Us E-D-O-T. THIS IS US NBC had a fire. THIS IS US E-D-O-T had a flood. We are strong. Like that television family, all of our lives are intertwined. As we complete the Harvey recovery stay tuned for the next special episode of This Is Us E-D-O-T.

In 2018, we began the year hoping not to spend more than we took in. We managed to do better than that.

Again, revenues exceeded expenses by $251,611.

HEADLINES

I am pleased to report that the Diocese had strong results and we are in good financial condition. We are debt free. We remain financially sound. Performance was better than budgeted.

Before we begin to review the statements, please recall that for reporting purposes we track the contributions and the expenditures related to Harvey separately to indicate that these amounts have been designated for specific purposes. The Episcopal Relief and Development grant and other Harvey items are held apart from the ongoing operations of the Diocese. This facilitates comparison of results from one year to the next. I will report on the Harvey expenditures in a bit. Let's begin with the balance sheet.

The preliminary year to date November, 2018 statements are in the Journal on page 32. We talked about December preliminary at pre-Council. The December, 2018 unaudited updated financials have now been posted on the EDOT website.

Let's take a look.

ASSETS

For the Balance Sheet assets, comparing 2018 to 2017, total assets have increased by $227,395 to $2,351,394 at year end. Although cash and securities balances have decreased by $141,593 the accounts receivable from related entities, prepaid expenses, and fixed assets have all increased. Accounts receivable--related parties are up because EDOT paid some Harvey bills in December at the end of the month and the foundations did not reimburse us until early January.

LIABILITIES

Looking at the liabilities, please note that there are some blank lines there. We have not used our line of credit. There are no notes payable. We have no debt. In mid-2016, three years ago, we owed $350,000. We have paid that off and have not borrowed since then. We are debt free! Our net assets balance (that is, the amount of assets minus the liabilities) has increased. We are now up to $1,452,982.

That's the balance sheet.

Now, let's look at the revenues and expenses on the statement of activities. In the "for profit" business world this is called the income statement. Total revenues exceeded expenses. Yes, more money came in than went out.

STATEMENT OF ACTIVITIES

We had $251,611 more revenues than expenses in 2018-- rounded here to $252,000.

Here is the big picture. Here is a look at our financial activities for 2017 actual, 2018 actual (unaudited) and the 2018 budget.

At the bottom line, 2018 has better results looking at the Net Change in Assets before the Special Account. Looking at ongoing operations 2018 is better. Last year in 2017, we had collected more revenue from contributions related to the Hurricane than we had expensed so the Special Accounts line is better in that year. In 2018, we have expended much of that and have only a $21,175 more than what we spent for the Hurricane work in communities. Looking at the line at the bottom line after the special payments, 2018 unaudited is certainly better than the 2018 budget with $251,611 favorable (revenues exceeding expenses) compared to the breakeven or ZERO that we had originally budgeted.

Let's look at the revenues here on this same slide.

Revenues

In 2018, total revenues were $11,009,403 and were near budgeted levels with a $52,945 variance which is less than one-half of one percent (0.48%). This occurred in because we had less reimbursements from the foundations than anticipated because EDOT expenditures were under budget. We also had better than anticipated Assessment payments from the congregations. Each year, an allowance for uncollectible accounts is created. This is our estimate how much of the assessment might go unpaid. Because almost all the churches made their assessment payments, we did not need to use $137,443 of that reserve. Therefore, assessments in total were better than what was budgeted in a challenging year. Church budgets were tight as parishioners continued to deal with the financial impact of Harvey. We are very grateful that parishes were able to pay their assessments.

Foundation support was less than the budget by $103,993. Grants that had been budgeted by the foundations to support EDOT with the Diocesan reorganization were not used. Some of the positions that the foundations were meant to pay EDOT for were vacant much of the year.

Program Revenues were $96,822 under budget. The Episcopal Service Corp program is being re-evaluated as an element of our young adult ministry. There were some favorable variances with revenues exceeding the budget for Iona, congregational development and other revenues. Other Income was over budget by $10,426 with greater than expected receipts from the 2018 Diocesan Council in Waco. There are corresponding expenses for these categories that offset these favorable variances.

Let's look at the revenues a bit more.

REVENUE GROWTH SINCE 2014

Here are the revenues since 2014. Each color represents a different component of revenues. The largest component is Assessments shown here in blue which has risen by 18.4% since 2014. The blue portion of the is growing slightly. However, the green portion of the slide is foundations and you can see that the green portion is growing dramatically. It is now twice what it was in 2014—up 141.5% since 2014.

That's revenues. Now let's look at expenses on the statement of activities.

Expenses

In total, expenses were $283,380 less than had been budgeted. The big picture is that across all departments, expenses were lower than budgeted. The biggest contributors to being under budget were: Administrative expenses (which were $104,505 under), Mission Amplification expenses (which were $88,657 under), Canonical expenses (which were $48,261 under budget) and The Office of the Bishop (which was $21,068 under budget).

Let's dive in a bit.

Administrative expenses were $104,504 lower than had been budgeted. Why? Several administrative cost items were over budget, but insurance costs were substantially below budget. Costs that exceeded the budget were compensation, Information Technology, HR Consulting, and Diocesan meetings.

Compensation was higher as three staff members had major illnesses. We paid sick pay and also needed temporary help. One staff member, Tony Norris, passed away in 2018.

Information Technology was higher as more consulting support was needed for the move to the Cloud and for the scanning project. We scanned real estate, title, land, and other paper records going back decades to create secure electronic files. Going forward, we have eliminated consultants in providing network support for desktops and laptops. We expect significant savings in technology.

Group health and other insurance costs in Administrative expense were a net $254,772 lower than budget. Insurance costs and coverage are reviewed by a clergy and lay subcommittee of the Finance committee, the Insurance Task Force, led by Dr. John Hancock. Vacant positions both in the Diocesan staff as well as clergy in parishes meant that there were fewer people in the insurance plan than budgeted. Concern over the impact of catastrophic illness and limits on coverage led the Finance Committee and the Executive Board to agree to provide a $240,000 grant to support extraordinary insurance costs for clergy.

Moving on to Mission Amplification Expenses. These were $88,659 under budget. Christian Formation was under budget by $74,425 because costs were lower than anticipated for changes in the Episcopal Service Corp as described by Canon Saylor's earlier today.

Canonical expenses were under budget by $48,261. This occurred because Diocesan Council was $35,513 lower than anticipated and the cost of General Convention delegates was $7,000 lower.

Office of the Bishop expenses were $21,065 below budget. Clergy compensation was $15,938 below budget and business travel expenses were also under budget.

Service and Outreach was $15,112 less than budgeted. Payments to companion dioceses were less than planned and the prison and restorative justice missions were higher.

Finally, actual unaudited Ministry Expenses were on budget at $1,680,643 compared to the budget of $1,685,422 a slight favorable variance of $5,779 or only three-tenths of one percent (0.34%). There were lower costs in Communications and the Bishop Fellows programs.

In summary, we had a better year than we had expected. We came in up $230,436 before the special accounts for the Hurricane and for General Convention.

HURRICANE HARVEY

Four foundations, Episcopal Health, Great Commission Foundation, Bishop Quin, and the Episcopal Foundation of Texas paid out $3.4 million based upon expenses incurred. They have made a total commitment of $5.5 million. There is $2.1 million that has not yet been spent. We still believe that the entire amount will be needed as one of the most severely damaged churches, Emmanuel Houston has not yet completed the new church design. They are still meeting in a synagogue. We are also grateful for Episcopal Relief and Development and the caring members of the general public who made donations to support relief and recovery in our communities.

Now, as for the General Convention, our costs came in at budget. We are proud of the successful convention and EDOT's role gathering an army of volunteers--many of you--as we hosted more than 10,000 deputies and visitors.

The Hurricane Harvey and General Convention costs resulted in $21,175 of revenue.

Therefore, at the bottom-bottom line revenues exceeded expenses by $251,611.

EXPENSES Narrative--

To recap, in 2018 revenues exceed expenses by $251,611. This was much better than the ZERO or breakeven that had been budgeted. Revenues were slightly lower and expenses were much lower. Revenues were $52,945 lower and expenses were $283,380 lower than budgeted. We continued to be good stewards and worked to reduce costs. Net assets grew more than was budgeted. Through stewardship, our balances grew. Net assets as of the end of the year were up $251,611.

We are pleased that the net assets balance grew a bit in 2018, because we are concerned about the impact of a volatile stock market on our congregations and our foundations. It is wise to have a bit of a balance as we look ahead to 2019. We will continue to track our funds diligently. We weathered Harvey, but a new storm arose early in 2018. Beginning in February, market fluctuations based on inflation, tariff and other concerns ended the calm season of ever rising investment valuations. Finance staff tracks the market and makes weekly reports to the Bishop Diocesan.

Although EDOT doesn't have a big investment portfolio, funds from foundations are impacted by declines in their portfolios. Certainly, an uncertain market can result in declines in plate and pledge that impact assessments.

As I conclude, Right Reverend Sir,

This is Us E-D-O-T -- TEXAS. We face floods. We survive staffing changes. We mourned our loss of a friend in the Finance department while still making improvements to deliver financial statements more timely.

This is Us E-D-O-T -- TEXAS. Unlike NBC we don't do too many flashbacks. We keep the narrative moving forward. We plant churches and help fund missional communities. We continue to cooperate, to help each other. Like that television family, all our lives are intertwined. But as an Episcopal family in the Anglican Communion, This is Us E-D-O-T moves across time, generations, race, culture and distance in a much more meaningful way than any television program.

This is Us E-D-O-T -- TEXAS. We had 10,000 of our friends come to see us last July—more than any studio audience. We weren't looking for a trophy. Our Emmy will come when we meet the Lord.

Looking ahead, the 2018 audit will begin on February 25th. Yes, that's this Monday--right after Council. After spending much of the spring with us, the external auditors, Blazek and Vetterling, will report to the EDOT and the Foundations Combined Audit Committee in June. It is no coincidence that much of Audit Season in March and April, coincides with Lenten Season. It is another period of sacrifice and prayer. During the audit last year, your Finance staff prepared some 376 schedules and searched for invoices and other records as evidence to support transactions. Blazek, we can hardly wait for Monday.

THIS IS US E-D-O-T

That concludes my report on the 2018 financial statements, Right Reverend, Sir.

APPENDIX E – 2019 BUDGET – SAM DODSON

Friday, February 22, 2019

Rt. Rev. Sir, and members of Council, I'm Sam Dodson, Chair of The Finance Committee for the Diocese and I have the privilege of presenting the 2019 Budget to Council for Approval. The Budget can be found in the Journal.

A lot of individuals and groups contribute to the development of the budget and I thought it would be useful for you to see the various groups that help in this process. Of course, you the delegates are the final group to weigh in.

The Finance Committee interacts with many of these groups and I want to commend the committee for its hard work. You can see the Committee Members on this slide, a group that represents the geographic diversity of our diocese.

Before going into greater detail on the budget itself, a few major overview points are in order. First and importantly, our budget is balanced. Second, and of importance to many of you, the assessment formula we adopted a few years ago remains unchanged.

we continue to receive substantial support from the Episcopal Health Foundation so that parish costs for clergy health insurance are kept down.

We continue to work on reorganizing the diocesan office so that we can optimize the ways we serve you.

You heard about hurricane Harvey work from Linda Riley Mitchell, our CFO. This is a multi-year effort and we have quite a ways to go.

The budget includes a 3% cost of living increase for all diocesan office personnel-both clergy and lay.

Here you see a three-year comparison of revenues and expenses. From 2017 to the 2019 Budget, our overall revenue rate of growth has been slowing. For 2019, budgeted revenues will grow 2.7% over 2018, or $298,000.

The growth in revenues can be attributed to the factors shown on this slide. Importantly, parish revenue grew during this time.

As you can see from this slide, while we have experienced growth in diocesan revenues from the constituent foundations, assessments provide the overwhelming part of diocesan revenues.

This slide provides a very good picture of how the sale of the hospital system and a revised assessment and insurance formula has helped contribute to a lower level of diocesan revenue coming from parishes. From a high of 15% in 2010 to 9.11% In 2017, The last full audited year available.

Before turning to the expense side of our 2019 Budget, I'd like to remind you of the formulae by which assessments are computed. The assessment is calculated as shown and is banded; that is, assessments cannot increase by more than 10% or decrease by more than 20%. Once again, the formula has not changed since 2013.

Turning now to operating expenses, this slide outlines key items behind the increases in 2019 budgeted expenses.

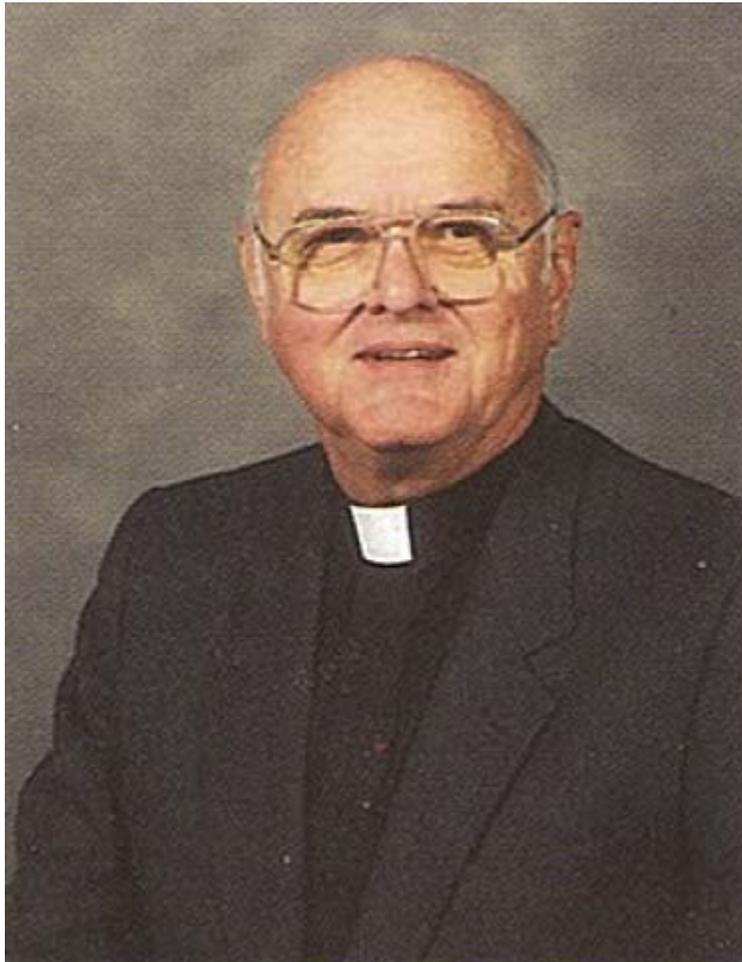

The pie chart is a good breakdown of projected diocesan expenses and a quick lookback at prior years. Again, there is a modest increase in the 2019 Budget over 2018.

No presentation of our budgetary situation would be complete without a look at the assessment formula for insurance. This slide gives you a good idea of how the insurance assessment is computed and again the importance of the Episcopal Health Foundation's contribution to helping cover this vital expense.

The benefits of the change in formulas could not be more graphic than this. parishes have saved over $9 million since the 2013 change. This information was conveyed to each parish in the 2019 Assessment Letter sent out by the finance department late last year.

Rt. Rev. Sir, on behalf of the Executive Board, I move the adoption of the 2019 Budget.

APPENDIX F - NECROLOGY

Raymond Palmer Whitfield

NORTHWEST CONVOCATION REPORT

St. Alban's Waco

We saw signs of God's grace in many places at St. Alban's in 2018. In January, we hosted a "Becoming the Beloved Community" event with Province VII's Anti-Racism Network. That same month, we hosted Bishop Harrison as she ordained our curate, the Rev. Neal McGowan, to the priesthood. Our Outreach Center continued to provide space for seven AA/12-step recovery meetings per week, the Community Race Relations Coalition, and the Central Texas String Academy. Our members served our community in many ways: hosting a monthly devotional at the Mission Waco homeless shelter, providing meals and tutoring at Cedar Ridge Elementary School, and mentoring youth incarcerated in the TJJD facility in Mart. In April, our Tag Sale raised $5,000 to support our mission partners. The funds we sent to our sister parish of All Saints, Nambiti, Malawi, fed 230 families in a time of severe drought. In August, over a dozen of our members volunteered at General Convention, where parishioner Jerry Campbell served as a lay delegate.

Our music program continued to expand as our chorister program grew to 17 children in two choirs. Our Sacred Arts series hosted six well-attended concerts supported by generous donations from the parish and community. We also established a renewed tradition of choral evensong, hosting three such services with an average of 112 in attendance.

The Our One Foundation Capital Campaign entered the official construction phase. In June, we moved offices to a former law office which we purchased (completing our ownership of our entire block). In the fall, we received diocesan approval for a $4.5 million building project, welcomed the Rt. Rev. Dena Harrison for our ceremonial groundbreaking in September, and in November we began laying the foundation of a new 5,000 sq. ft. Parish Hall. We anticipate completion by the end of 2019. Additionally, we purchased property at 323 N. 29th St. for future ministry space.

Overall, we saw signs of great spiritual health. Seventeen people were baptized and forty-five were confirmed, received, or reaffirmed their baptismal vows. ASA grew to 254, a forty-year high, representing 73% growth over five years. We saw growth in our small group ministry (going from five to seven groups), Adult Sunday School, Children's ministry, and even online, with website visitors increasing 30% to 8,700 per year. We welcomed 533 on Christmas Eve, the most since 1977. Our first-ever Men's Retreat had 25 participants. Our third annual Theology on Tap series, hosted at a local pub, welcomed over seventy people each week for four weeks, many from outside the church. We also saw the launch of two new ministries: Meet.Pray.Run., a monthly gathering of members and non-members who meet somewhere outdoors in Waco, have a simple Morning Prayer service, and go for a run; and the Julian of Norwich Contemplative Reading Group, which meets monthly at St. Alban's and similarly draws people from both inside and outside the parish.

As we continue to live into our mission of "Proclaiming to all, in word and deed, the grace of God in Jesus Christ," we see God's faithfulness in pouring that grace on us and through us.

St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Salado, TX

What a great year we had in 2018! We did not have any Baptisms in 2018 but we did have four people Confirmed and one person Received into the Episcopal Church. It was a great opening to a new year.

People really enjoy having the Feasts of Saints Mary and Joseph, and the Festivals went well. Our annual Shrove Tuesday Gumbo Dinner continues to be a hit and we will feast on a Cajun dinner again in just a few short weeks.

We were privileged to have Bishop Phillip Duncan with us on Easter. A total of 119 people attended our Easter Service. Three people were Confirmed and one person was Received into the Episcopal Church.

We held our Second Annual Kite Fest with an estimated 150+ people from around central Texas in attendance. This year we approved a third Little Free Lending Library, which will be opened in Jarrell. Our Annual Pumpkin Patch was held in September and October. Children from around the Village of Salado and surrounding schools came ready to hear stories and receive individual pumpkins.

Bishop Hector Monterroso Celebrated our Eighth Annual Posada, which was held in Salado on December 8. About 70 people participated in the cold, wet, and windy Posada. We enjoyed a Eucharist service celebrating both the Posada and Our Lady of Guadalupe.

Instead of a "Festival of Christmas Lessons and Carols" this year, we chose to have an informal evening of Hymns and Carols in the Parish Hall. We enjoyed singing together and having a wide selection of finger foods.

The Youth Group of St. Joseph averages around 18 or more and continues to meet on Wednesday evenings. It remains very active in the church and in the community. We have provided over $2,000 in outreach to the Salado Family Relief and other organizations.

By the end of 2018, the average Sunday attendance at St. Joseph's was 55. We have 92 families attending St. Joseph's. If everyone decided to attend St. Joseph's on any given Sunday, the attendance would be around 115 people.

We were blessed to have the opportunity this year to open a Missional Community in Jarrell, TX, on the First Sunday in Advent. Six people of the St. Joseph's congregation volunteered to seed the new site and we meet every Sunday in the Boardroom of the Jarrell ISD. We are committed in trying to build the Kingdom and spread the Word in a new and exciting format.

Christ Episcopal Church, Mexia, Texas

Christ Church found 2018 to be an especially challenging year. We lost two of our beloved and committed members to death and our Vicar had to take medical leave of absence. However, it was clearly demonstrated that the Lord works through His people, not through an organizational structure. The church added a new sign to increase its visibility and carried on its outreach work by providing food for several needy families at Thanksgiving; food, clothing and presents for more families at Christmas; and collected peanut butter for a local food pantry ministry in Mexia. The church also began reaching out to the community by allowing our facilities to be used for appropriate meetings and events in the area.

A special presentation of Lessons and Carols was held in December, because this was the 30th year for the Christ Church choir, along with singers and musicians from the community, to perform this time-honored tradition for Mexia. During the year, the church also provided over $70,000 in higher education scholarships. In 2019, Christ Church will strive to increase our presence in the community and seek more needs that we can attempt to resolve with our neighbors.

Holy Spirit Episcopal Church, Waco, Texas

In 2018, Holy Spirit, Waco, cut the ribbon on Phase One of its master plan, which include a renovation of the Nave and an expansion of the Narthex, together with innumerable small things hidden beneath the walls. Like arcing electrical wires. Yes, that happened. We received our first curate, The Rev. Bobbi Kraft. We also received our first major endowment gift from the estate of Hendley and Hemprova McDonald. In September, we launched a third Sunday-morning service and over the course of the Fall implemented EOS Traction for our staff team. It has been a long, hard, and yet joyful year of becoming and sharing Jesus' good news in Waco.

St. Francis Episcopal Church, Temple, Texas

The year began with a bit of uncertainty, having our Rector resign at the end of 2017. For the first couple of months, we were utilizing supply clergy for the Eucharist on Sunday, and with the leadership of our Deacon, the Rev'd. Tamara Clothier, maintaining our outreach ministries. In March, the Rev'd. David Krause came as part time Interim, and we began the process of searching for our next Rector. This occasioned a self study of the parish, utilizing the HOLY COW! parish consultants. The rest of the year was spent prioritizing, reconfiguring, and searching.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Waco, Texas

We just completed one of the largest stewardship increases in recent memory. We have over 15 formation opportunities each week and host several weekly community endeavors from feeding the homebound to working with homeless teenagers. Our annual Lessons and Carols featured our area's first responders as readers. Plans are currently underway for mission work with the UTE tribe of Utah as our youth will be leading Vacation Bible School. This past year our Disciples Camp had over 200 people attending or volunteering on some level. Our school (toddlers – 6th grade) continues to grow and has obtained a balanced budget and a large enrollment. A highlight from our annual Christmas pageant was a returning veteran hidden in a large Christmas-paper-wrapped box. His daughter opened the box and her daddy was inside. The Rev. James Pevehouse was called as our Senior Associate Rector in 2018 and a new, full-time Youth Director, Sara Allison, came on board. Our Rector, Ray Waldon, led a pilgrimage of 23 people to Israel over the summer for 11 days. St. Paul's continues its missional outlook and remaining a trusted resource for our community.

Aaron Zimmerman, Dean

VOCATIONS TASKFORCE

In August 2018, the Bishop called together a number of clergy and laity and formed a 3-year Vocations Taskforce. The context and means by which we do ‘church’ is changing and each and every new generation brings with it new challenges and opportunities. The aim of the Vocations Taskforce is to take seriously the dynamics we face and consider how we might rise to the challenge of responding to them. Some of these dynamics include how do we raise up people to respond to God’s call to take a lead in the church, in both lay and ordained capacities? What obstacles do people face (financial, familial and cultural) and how can we create a pathway that enables people from all backgrounds to follow the vocation God is calling them to? As the diocese grows in, for example, church-planting and missional communities, what will the future needs of these congregations be?

The Vocations Taskforce has put together six working groups to look at various aspects of vocation and ministry. These include discernment and formation of all Christians as baptized members and ministers of God’s church, our ordination processes, the varying models of leadership that exist and could exist within the diocese, questions concerning finance, how we support the ongoing development of clergy (especially as they transition to new roles and responsibilities) and current data on congregations and clergy numbers. The hope of this work is that we will get a very real understanding of where we are at – both in terms of strengths and weaknesses – and, through prayer and discernment, a sense of where God is calling us to go next. It’s too early to say what this will look like, but by God’s grace and the guidance of His Holy Spirit, the result will be that more and more people will be enabled to follow Christ in His call on their life, in whatever capacity that looks like, and that the diocese as a whole will be better situated to share Christ to the next generation.
